

Fifth Stakeholder Forum on Wetlands Mitigation

Status:

Completed

IWR Contact:

Robert Brumbaugh (Robert.W.Brumbaugh@usace.army.mil)

Purpose:

The Institute for Water Resources supported The Fifth Stakeholder Forum on Wetlands Mitigation to improve stakeholder understanding of the proposed Mitigation Rule recently published in the Federal Register and give an outline of the Corps' Wetland Mitigation Program in general

Objective:

To better understand the environmental community's issues around the recently proposed Draft Mitigation Rule published in the Federal Register in March 2006. The Environmental Law Institute will publish a report summarizing comments from the stakeholders present at the meeting.

Benefits:

The meeting supported the Corps' Communication and Outreach with the goal of improving the current rulemaking process for the Draft Mitigation Rule. Additionally, it gave interested and participating parties a better understanding of the Corps Wetland Mitigation Practices and a better understanding of the proposed Mitigation Rule.

Progress:Products:

Related Links: • Mitigation Action Plan (project web site)

Team:

Robert Brumbaugh poc
Robert Brumbaugh team member

Partners:

